Dear Editor,

I am writing on behalf of M.E.M.A. (the Manufacturing of Exclamation Marks Association) to praise you for your constant use of our product. In a recent issue we counted no less than 682 of our marks. But we would like to bring to your attention the fact that you have not yet paid your annual subscription of £1 to our fund. We regret to inform you that unless you do so immediately, we shall have to ban you from using our marks in future.

JANET BAXTER, Co. Down.

Okay, Madam Treasurer, our subscription is on its way to you. But we would like to point out that we are fully paid-up for the use of full-stops, commas, question marks, hyphens and all other such things . . . Editor.

Dear Editor,

Recently my grandad bought me a very nice cassette recorder. After reading the instructions, I set out to stop one of my little brother's annoying habits — snoring. At midnight I climbed out of bed and set up my recorder, putting the microphone close to his mouth, and recorded 5 minutes of him snoring. In the morning I played the recording back to him. He couldn't believe his ears. But the plan seems to have worked, because I haven't heard him snore since.

STEPHEN DRISCOLL, Greenford

Sounds as if you've got your brother well and truly 'taped' now . . . Editor

NORVIC ...naturally

Dear Editor,

My brother, who is two years old, has a crafty way of playing 'snap'. I put one card down, then he puts a card down, and whether they match or not, he calls out "same". When I begin to argue with him, he screams and shouts, and I just have to give in and say: "All right, they are the same." So then he says "snap", and takes the cards.

MICHAELA RICHARDS, Bradford.

Seems you just can't win, pal . . . Editor.

Dear Editor,

My sister and I share the same hobby. It all started on Easter Monday, when I found an old piece of pottery in a field near our house, which made me suggest to my sister that we should start collecting pottery. She agreed, and so we started straight away. And do you know, we collected 50 different pieces that day, and have found lots more since then.

DAVID SANDS, King's Lynn

Dear Editor,

I am a member of the Air Training Corps, 334 Squad, Neath. We parade over 45 cadets every Monday and Friday evenings, and we have great fun doing our drill. Later in the year I hope to do the Bronze stage of the Duke of Edinburgh's Award Scheme.

PAUL JONES, Neath.

Best of luck from us all, Paul . . . Editor.

Dear Editor,

My Uncle and a few of his friends formed a group called Sunshine, and were chosen to take part in one of the early eliminating rounds to choose a group to represent Great Britain in this year's Song For Europe. They didn't win, but they were chosen to appear on the Rod Stewart show.

A. SAUNDERS, Inverness

Sounds as if there's a 'bright' future ahead for Sunshine . . . Editor

Just a reminder, pals...

When you write to us with jokes, Knock-Knocks or entries for any other of our participation features, please, please fill in the coupon below and attach it to your letter. Firstly, if you're a winner, it makes sure we know exactly where to send your prize-money. And secondly it tells us just how popular – or unpopular – our stories are. After all, our aim is to please YOU, and to do that we need your help. If you don't want to cut up your comic, you can always copy out the coupon on a piece of paper, and then fill in the details.
